Program Description

The Management and Leadership Institute for the Universities of Louisiana (M&LI) is a two-semester program for mid-career faculty and staff who aspire to broadened academic, professional, or administrative leadership roles. The Institute will immerse participants in a program designed to maximize their effectiveness in management roles. Participants will gain a deeper understanding for effective leadership in higher education. They will learn how to develop diverse, collaborative, high-performing teams; manage and implement change; analyze financial, student, and market data; and identify and seize opportunities in the increasingly competitive market driven environment of higher education.

Goals for Institute Participants

- Gain familiarity with contemporary challenges facing academic and administrative leaders.
- Deepen understanding of fundamental perspectives and concepts of leadership as they apply in higher education.
- Enhance personal and professional leadership competencies.
- Advance the UL System by leading a system-based group project from conception through completion.
- Increase understanding of important dimensions of higher education administration, including organizational structure and mission, governance, finance and budgeting, legal and regulatory issues, diversity, and ethics.

Target Participant

The nominee should be one who has potential for increased leadership responsibility and achievement within higher education. Nominations for participation are submitted by campus presidents who recognize a need for an expanded pool of future leaders and want to recognize and encourage the development of designated colleagues to assume increasing leadership responsibility. Nominees must be willing and able to attend and participate in all curriculum sessions and other requisite activities.

Program Structure

Nine three day sessions will be held over the course of two semesters, with each of our Universities of Louisiana campuses hosting a session. Participants will develop leadership skills and competencies by exploring case studies, presentations, and readings; engaging in group projects, identifying, assessing and addressing a system-wide issue; and fulfilling an extended mentoring/job-shadowing component.

M&LI Themes

Themes include institutional structure and missions, organizational dynamics, leadership theories and concepts, formal and informal leadership roles and responsibilities, disciplinary and institutional cultures, decision-making, internal and external communication, the influence of multiple stakeholders, and the leader’s role in organizational planning and change. The M&LI will draw on the knowledge and experiences of presidents and leaders from each of our nine campuses with additional input from state leadership and national higher education leaders as well. Nine monthly meetings begin on Mondays at 6:00 p.m., continue all day Tuesday and conclude on Wednesday afternoons. Participants will visit all of our System Universities in meetings over two semesters, which will provide opportunities to experience and appreciate each university’s unique identity.
Reading List

Five leadership selections exploring various aspects of leadership development and effectiveness will be read by each participant. Every other session will focus on an assigned text. The class’s three existing working groups will each be assigned one text for which they will facilitate a discussion and/or plan an activity or application of the book’s themes and message, and UL System President Jim Henderson will facilitate the discussions of the remaining two books during the first and last Institute meetings. This year’s reading list includes the following titles:

1. Reframing Organizations 2017 by Lee Bolman and Terrence Deal
2. Good to Great: Why Some Companies Make the Leap and Others Don’t 2001 by Jim Collins
4. The Five Dysfunctions of a Team: A Leadership Fable 2002 by Patrick Lencioni
5. To Kill a Mockingbird 2015 50th Anniversary Edition by Harper Lee

Mentoring/Job Shadowing

Participants gain valuable work experience at their home institution or other institutions within the System by partnering with a mentor. This approach gives participants access to high-level leaders who can provide unique and valuable insight and experience. Specific job shadowing and mentoring activities are expected of all participants, to be scheduled and completed between September and April.

Systemwide Issue Group Projects

Three groups of six or seven participants will work together to study, evaluate and address a system-wide issue with a goal of scheduling a presentation opportunity before the UL System Presidents’ Council and/or UL System board members. All projects will address a significant area of need and will aim to strengthen and advance the UL System. The projects are intended to provide a context for applying and furthering the development of leadership competencies, while contributing meaningfully to significant needs of our institutions. Throughout the year, each working group will meet to identify feasible and efficient solutions, brainstorm, research and evaluate possible resolutions and prepare and coordinate presentations summarizing their process and conclusions to be shared at the Institute’s final meeting.
